This volume, the first book of poems which Mr. Zangwill has published, supports the truth of this criticism in a remarkable manner. The material of the collection is largely personal, the spirit is imaginative, and the message which reaches his readers is subconscious in its revelation. 12mo, Cloth, ornamental covers, 141 pp. $1.20.

The strength and depth of their meaning will recur over and over again. . . . The material is largely personal, but wrought together with lively imagination and a subtle charm, which descends to wonderful depths without the slightest effort.—Washington Post.

ZENOS, PROF. ANDREW C., D.D.

The Elements of the Higher Criticism. The object of this work is not to advocate or oppose any set of theories, but to state and explain the principles and methods of the higher criticism, with reference to the large and growing periodical and book literature on the subject. 12mo, cloth, 268 pp. $1.00.

While the work is neither a plea nor a philippic, it is eminently reassuring as to the Divine Source of the Holy Scriptures, the Bible.—Arena, Boston.

ZIMMERN, ALICE

†The Home Life of the Ancient Greeks. Translated from the German of Professor H. Blümner. 548 pages, crown 8vo, Cloth. $2.00.

ZWEMER, SAMUEL M., D.D., F.R.G.S.

Raymund Lull. The life story of the first Christian missionary who carried the gospel to the Moslems. The record of Raymund Lull's life reads like a romance. From the dissolute life of a gay knight in the Court of King James II. of Aragon, he became a monk. So numerous were his literary productions on philosophy, sociology, logic, and theology that their number is unknown. His daring trips to Africa, his unflinching courage, his great strength of faith, his intense suffering, and his tragic death after fifty years of saintly devotion to his mission of converting the Saracens to Christianity, all form some of the most glowing pages in the lives of the world's illustrious Christian heroes. 12mo, Cloth, ornamental covers, 172 pp., 12 full-page half-tone illustrations, introduction by Robert E. Speer, complete bibliography, etc. 75 cents.

THE HOMILETIC REVIEW

VOL. LXX.

AN INTERNATIONAL, undenominational magazine of religion, theology, science, and philosophy. Every phase of the minister's work is treated constructively. Issued monthly.

The Homiletic Review contains discussion and information on all the important topics and problems in theology, sociology, and religion. The attitude of the church toward all the live issues of the day receives full attention. It is a practical help to ministers, theological students, and other religious workers of all denominations. It aims to secure the best contributions from leading thinkers, writers, and preachers of the Christian world.

Its reach is world-wide. Its aim is specific—to give the appreciative and alert pastor, already over-taxed with work, the richest, most highly concentrated and effective fund of information, inspiration and suggestion possible. We aim to bring the individual pastor and preacher into touch with all his co-workers, so that he may be broadened, strengthened, inspired, and upheld in his work by the consensus of the whole clerical profession. Our facilities increase with experience, and hence, it is that The Homiletic Review—"ever better and better"—becomes indispensable even to those most eminent in the profession. It surely has, or ought to have, as much claim upon the less favored and successful.

Opinions of Readers and of the Press

"The Homiletic Review is greatly improved over what it was a few years ago—excellent as it was then. The editors are certainly abreast of the times, and there is much in the magazine which a minister can in no way afford to skip."—Zion's Herald, Boston.

"The very best magazine of its kind for preachers."—Newell Dwight Hillis, D.D.

"Sincere congratulations on the freshness and vigor of The Review."—Wm. Elliot Griffis, D.D

"The Homiletic Review is a real homiletic help for ministers; full of ideas and suggestions."—The Presbyterian Banner, Pittsburg.

"The finest thoughts of the ablest preachers of the present century on the sacred writings are here given in sermonic form."—The Watchman, Boston.

"The Homiletic Review gleans in many fields, and gathers rich and valuable sheaves that might otherwise be lost. The range of subjects treated has great breadth and variety."—The Christian Advocate, New York.

"The Homiletic Review has been greatly improved by the changes made in it recently. I especially like the editorial column, which seems to me quite-up-to-date and thoroughly sane."—John Balcom Shaw, D.D.

"I have been reading (The Homiletic) for many years and it seems to me to be occupying a higher plane than ever before, fresher, more vital, more masterly, more stimulating."—President P. W. Crannell, D.D.

"The Homiletic Review stands at the head of magazines devoted to current religious thought and sermonic literature."—Christian Intelligencer.

Issued Monthly. Subscription Per Year, $3.00. Single Copies, 30 Cents

THE MISSIONARY REVIEW OF THE WORLD

THE REVIEW is the only magazine which keeps up with the progress of Missionary work throughout the world. It takes a bird's-eye-view of the Kingdom of God on earth—interdenominational and international. Its contents, month by month, are not only accurate and up to date, but are also of high literary merit and well illustrated. It is now the leading authority on the subject of missions, and as such its subscribers should include every one directly or indirectly interested in this great subject. Its articles are by leading mission authorities, treating every side of missionary work in all fields. Biographies of notable Christian workers and missionaries are frequently given, editorial discussions on present live subjects are a prominent feature, and the cream of all missionary periodical literature is given every month both in digest and direct quotation. Every issue of The Missionary Review is filled with suggestions for missionary meetings, practical missionary work, sermons, addresses, etc.

OPINIONS OF THOSE WHO KNOW

A. W. Halsey, D.D., Secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, New York: "For many years I have regarded The Missionary Review of the World as far and away the best missionary magazine in the world."

Charles H. Parkhurst, D.D., New York: "No one who desires to hold in bird's-eye-view the movement which the militant church at large is making upon the enemy's territory can afford to dispense with The Missionary Review of the World.

Herrick Johnson, D.D., President McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago: "There is nothing equal to it within my knowledge in the entire field of missions."

A.F.Schauffler,D.D.,Secretary New York City Mission and Tract Society: "I do not see how any one who has charge of a church can get along without The Missionary Review of the World.

Western Christian Advocate, Cincinnati: "The preacher or layman who fails to drink inspiration from this great fountain of inspiration is a fit subject for discouragement in the cause of missions."

The Reformed Church Review, Lancaster, Pa., in a recent article: "The Missionary Review of the World continues to be the standard periodical on missions in this country and probably in Great Britian. For the student and pastor who desire to keep in touch with the present missionary movements it is indispensable. We question whether there is any other periodical which furnishes more homiletic material with which to illustrate, enforce, and demonstrate the perpetual power of the old gospel than The Missionary Review. It deals with concrete results, with actual experiences, and with living apostles. Let Christians in all denominations read the pages of this Review, and they will be well informed on the great subject of missions and the progress of God's kingdom throughout the world."

Subscription, $2.50 per year; $2.00 in clubs of ten or more. Single copies, 25 cents.

The advantages of the Biflex over other loose-leaf devices

1. EASE OF MANIPULATION. The entire pack of paper may be inserted or removed by one simple operation. Single sheets or several sheets can be inserted or removed with greater ease than with any other loose-leaf binder.

2. UNBROKEN ARCHES. There is no chance for paper to catch and tear.

3. SIZE OF ARCHES. The arches are large enough to allow free movement of the paper. Paper can be punched at a greater distance from its edge than with other binders.

4. COMPLETE WITHIN ITSELF. There are no rings or metal parts to scratch the polished surface of a desk.

5. CONSTRUCTION. The metal parts are securely riveted to the cover, giving strength and durability.

6. FLY LEAVES. These are reinforced so that they lend strength to the entire pack.

GERMANY SINCE 1740

By GEORGE MADISON PRIEST, Princeton University. xvi + 199 pages, $1.25

A BRIEF account, for the reader who wishes to know something of the rise of Germany as a world power, of the most interesting period of German history, the period from the accession of Maria Theresa of Austria to the present. The author gives a summary of the political and social conditions in the first four decades of the eighteenth century and then presents with fine discrimination the essential matters in the development of modern Germany, carrying his chronicle down to the outbreak of war in August, 1914. Maps, a chronological table, suggestions for further reading in German history, genealogies of the leading ruling families, and an index add to the value and usableness of the book.

DIVINE LAW AND THE SABBATH IN ALL AGES.

THE SABBATH AND THE LORD'S DAY.

By H. M. Riggle.

The origin of the Old Testament Sabbath (seventh day) observance is clearly shown. The different chapters tell when the Sabbath was first enjoined upon man; that it was of a ceremonial nature—a type of spiritual rest in Christ—and was abolished by his coming. It also shows that the Jewish Sabbath was not commanded to be observed in the Christian dispensation.

The book is designed to convince seventh-day observers of the fallacy of their position. "The Sabbath and the Lord's Day" contains teaching on a subject greatly misunderstood. Everybody should get a copy and read it.

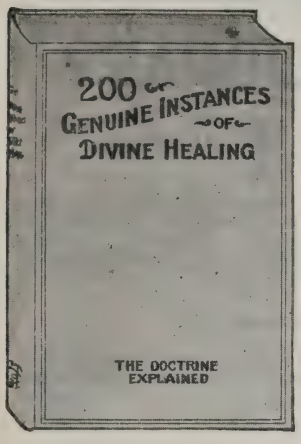
200 GENUINE INSTANCES OF DIVINE HEALING. The Doctrine Explained.



Compiled and arranged by A. L. Byers.

Good Cheer and Encouragement for the Afflicted.

Part I of this book of 511 pages consists of two hundred remarkable instances of healing by divine power. Only those testimonies were accepted that could be verified by living witnesses. Instances are given of the healing of rheumatism, catarrh, consumption, nervous prostration, heart-trouble, complication of diseases, broken bones, painful accidents, and other numerous ills to which humanity is subject. Those who had spent everything for medicines and physicians were made whole by trusting their cases to the Great Physician. Persons pronounced incurable by doctors and given up to die by friends are now well and strong. Cancerous growth has been stayed in its course and its effects destroyed.

Part II explaining the doctrine of divine healing, treats the subject in a way that will enable the readers to grasp faith for healing. Helpful advice to those seeking healing is given.

Chapter XX, "Counterfeits of Divine Healing," and Chapter XXI, "Forty Objections and Questions Answered," are particularly interesting as they frustrate the false claims of so-called healers and those who oppose the work of the Divine Physician.

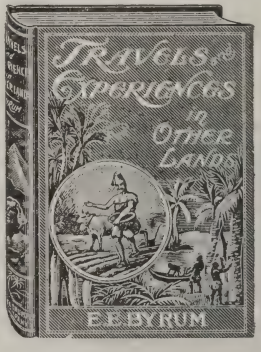
TRAVELS AND EXPERIENCES IN OTHER LANDS.

By E. E. Byrum.

In his description of a tour around the world, the author gives a variety of interesting experiences among the people of different countries he visited. This information he imparts in an entertaining manner that will be helpful and greatly appreciated.



Tells How We Got Our Bible.

The author visited the old museums, convents, and libraries, and examined the oldest Greek manuscripts of the Bible. He met with "higher critics" who oppose the Bible, and has written a chapter giving the reader the benefit of his research on the subject, in plain, simple language. Can you answer the infidel or skeptic who tells you that some imposter wrote the Bible a few centuries ago? This book will give an answer that can not be gainsaid.

There are historical accounts, narratives, and experiences about the scenes in Africa, Europe, the Holy Land, Egypt, India, and other countries, and their people. The truths of the gospel are interwoven in such a manner as to throw light along the spiritual pathway, and people will read and get a benefit who perhaps would not read a religious book.

600 large pages. 177 illustrations Cloth, $1.50. Half leather, $2.00. Full leather, seal grain, $2.50.

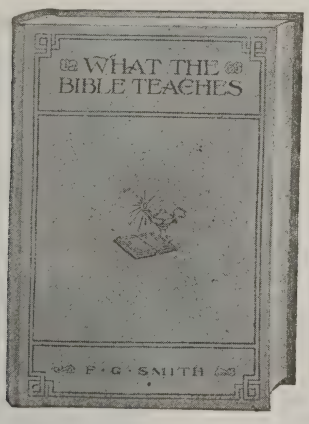
WHAT THE BIBLE TEACHES

By F. G. Smith

The most striking feature of this book is its treatment of the principal doctrines of the Bible in a way that is at the same time thorough and interesting. It is not tedious or intricate, yet it deals with fundamentals.



It gets beneath the surface, goes to the heart of its subject, and makes the reader see the truth.

Young ministers, Sunday-school teachers, Bible students, and in fact every one who desires to understand the Bible, will find in this book a gold mine of useful knowledge. Such persons should read and study "What the Bible Teaches" with their Bible in hand and thus make its knowlege their own.

576 pages.. Cloth, $1.00.

STARTLING INCIDENTS AND EXPERIENCES IN THE CHRISTIAN LIFE.

It is a book of soul-stirring narratives that will interest both young and old, saved and unsaved.

It tells of answers to prayer on land and sea.

These are related in such an attractive and fascinating style that the reader, whether Christian or non-Christian, is at once captivated. The former receives a great inspiration of faith, while the latter is seized with an almost irresistible desire to read further, and by so doing he becomes better acquainted with God and his dealings with his people. This better acquaintance leads him to accept Christ as his personal Savior.

The book narrates the trials, temptations, and testing times in the Christian life of many people; it tells of their victories and the manner of their deliverance. Its scope is so broad that the reader can scarcely have a trial that is not in some manner covered by the experience of others, whose faith, patience, or deliverance gives an inspiration to deeper depths and greater heights in the grace of God.

The incidents are striking, reliable and true.

The author has had a wide experience in his extensive travels in home and foreign lands, and in this book he gives to the reader something that is

Interesting and Inspiring

and that will bring one in closer touch with God and arouse in one a determination to rise above discouragements and to be courageous in times of adversity. YOU WILL WANT THE BOOK.

414 Pages. Price, $1.00.

CAMP-MEETING SERMONS.

This book contains sermons preached at the great international camp-meeting at Anderson, Ind. It has brought light, truth, and encouragement to thousands. Christians feel drawn to a closer walk with God, sinners are awakened to the realization of their lost condition, and the sick and afflicted are shown their privileges under the gospel.

Reasons why the book "Camp-Meeting Sermons" is being read by so many:

It radiates strength and courage to the Christian life.

It is full of illustrations that really illustrate, that get hold of the inner life, the conscience, and the heart.

The presentation of vital truth is thrilling, captivating, inspiring, intensely practical, and full of power.

The Sermons seem charged with a current of faith and hope, and make the things of God real.

HAPPY HOURS AT HOME

By Isabel C. Byrum

An intensely interesting book for the evening hour when the little folks are preparing for slumberland.

Mothers and fathers will be glad to have a new book at hand when their children, hungry for a good story, come crowding round their knees. The desire of children is to be entertained, and parents desire to entertain and at the same time instruct in matters that make for Christian living. Many parents, had they the time, would gladly make up stories for the young folks, stories that would serve their purpose. A mother who understands the parent heart has done this very work, and "Happy Hours at Home" is the result.

It is a story of trial, temptation, and victory in the life of young people, so charmingly told that the readers' attention does not wander. It interests both young and old.

A valuable reward for a worthy Sunday-school scholar.

JUNIOR HYMNS

A New Hymn-Book Prepared Especially for Use in Sunday-Schools and for Religious Meetings of Children and Young People Generally.

By B. E. Warren and A. L. Byers.

Hymns that are learned in childhood and youth make impressions that last throughout life's career. They lodge in the heart, as the seeds of truth in the soul, to be revealed in maturer years, bearing an influence for good and inclining the soul to God and spiritual things. How important, then, that such hymns should be of the best!

"Junior Hymns" contains a number of old and tested hymns—gems whose luster has not dimmed but rather brightened by service—also the best selections from our earlier book, "Youthful Praise." In addition, there are a number of hymns written specially for this book.

The hymns that are adapted to the smaller children are indicated by the word "Primary" under their titles. "Junior Hymns" has a topical index, which will be found helpful in selecting songs for special services. There are 153 hymns. Each of these has both words and music, which makes it easy for those who can read notes to learn every song in the book.

It is the largest and best collection of Sunday-school hymns that we have ever published, and we feel confident that those who order these books will be delighted with them. The editors took special pains to put only the very choicest of songs in this book.

AN ATLAS CONSTRUCTED ON MODERN LINES

HAMMOND'S STANDARD ATLAS OF THE WORLD

The many Railroad extensions and changes.

Every year, thousands of miles of new railroads are opened, extensions are made and important short cuts established bringing commercial development to new sections of the land hitherto inaccessible.

A question frequently asked.

There is not an office, salesroom, store, or factory in the whole world that is not affected by these transportation conditions. No matter what line of business is pursued, inevitably the question arises, "What railroad goes there?," and, until now, no publication has given the answer with unerring accuracy, every time it is asked.

The thorough treatment given this subject in the Standard Atlas.

The Standard Atlas gives the railroads the attention their importance warrants. The maps in the atlas show not only the complete railroad system of each country, but on the maps of the states and those of the provinces of Canada and on that of Mexico, each railroad is given a distinct color, so that any one railroad may be readily distinguished from all the others. Over 300,000 miles of railroads are thus shown.

Another way to get your answer quickly.

The index, likewise, gives particular attention to the railroads. Railroad stations are listed, and, by a numerical method, the names of the railroads passing through the towns are instantly ascertained.

THE CONTENTS

Completeness. Authenticity.

The Standard Atlas contains 240 pages of maps and text matter, and there is not a page of extraneous "padding" from cover to cover. The entire world is here mapped as it has never been shown before. While it is essentially an American Atlas, the foreign countries have not been slighted nor inaccurately shown. Each map is based upon government surveys or other official authority; nothing in this atlas is the result of guess-work.

THE MAPS OF THIS CONTINENT

How North America is treated in the Standard Atlas.

In this atlas is a new series of large scale maps of each of our states and of each province of Canada, portraying in detail the Commercial Geography of North America, showing all counties, cities and towns with the transportation facilities, railway stations, junction points, etc.

No highly colored background obliterates the lettering.

A list of counties and principal cities and towns is printed at the side of the map together with the index references by which the towns may be located. Printed with only the county boundaries tinted, against a white background, the minute detail of the maps is brought out in a very clear manner and the special coloring of railroads mentioned above increases the facility for acquiring information in the shortest possible time. Then, too, any marks or checks made on these maps in routing salesmen or assigning territory are much more distinctly seen than when made on the ordinary old-style colored map.

In addition to the railroads, the interurban electric lines and water routes, which are becoming most important factors in transportation, are in individual colors so that they may be traced at a glance—you can follow the route quickly and accurately from start to finish.

HAMMOND'S STANDARD ATLAS OF THE WORLD

OTHER VALUABLE MAPS

Parcel Post Map of the United States—Shows all units of area in this new system, accompanied by a Zone scale and the latest tabulation of Parcel Post rates.

Railroad Map of the United States—Shows the railroad systems of this country in separate colors.

Political Map of the World—Shows steamship lines, location of wireless telegraph stations, etc.

Foreign Maps—Up-to-date maps of all foreign countries showing minor political divisions, railroads, canals, submarine cables, etc., accurately locating the towns, cities and villages.

THE INDEX

On the pages immediately adjoining the map of a state of this country or province of Canada is printed the index to that map.

Proximity of index to map.

Thus, by simply turning the page, the location of a town may be ascertained. The convenience of such an arrangement is apparent.

This index is a workable index. It gives just the information wanted and excludes all useless features.

If you want to know

The population of a State	The Parcel Post rate
The area in square miles	The railroads going to any place
The location or population of a County	If it is a County Seat
The location or population of a County Seat	What County it is in
The location or population of a Town, City or Village.	If it is a money order post office
	Where to send mail if it is not a post office

The Index Will Tell You

DOLLARS CAN BE SAVED

by referring to these new maps in routing salesmen, in shipping the most direct way and in avoiding transfers. These maps show where the junction points are, how far one town is from another and the best way to get to any place by rail or water.

Relative location of mail inquiries to salesmen or agents can be determined—Territory can be assigned on a basis of population and area—Population and location of towns in any given radius can be ascertained—Growth or decrease in your business in each section of the country in proportion to population can be determined.

THE BINDING:—The Standard Atlas is beautifully printed on extra-fine high-finish paper and is durably bound in half leather with attractive side stamps.

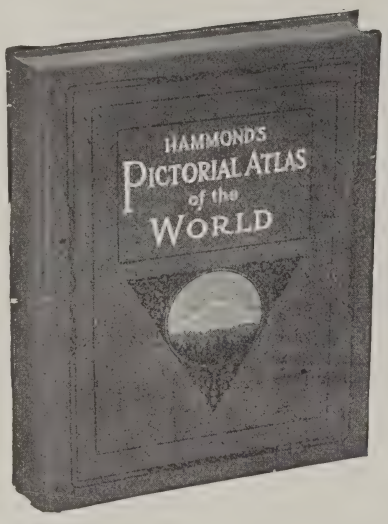
HAMMOND'S
PICTORIAL ATLAS OF THE WORLD



¶ An Atlas, to be of service, must be up-to-date—compact. This Atlas and Gazetteer of the World is newer, by five years, than any publication of like nature. In the last half decade the world has moved forward swiftly, and changes of vital moment have been wrought. The alert business man or painstaking teacher has no use for a mediocre, cumbersome atlas, telling only half truths. He wants to know the situation to-day. Thousands of new towns have sprung up within this last year. New railroads have been finished. He wants a complete compendium of geographical facts to-date; these facts are easily accessible in this exhaustive work.

THE MAPS

are clear, accurate and by reason of their delicate, harmoniously blended coloring are of rare beauty. Boundaries are distinct. The names of towns are printed in graded type indicating their size. On the margin of each map are new alphabetically arranged quick-reference indices of political divisions, cities and towns.

THE INDEX

Names and locates on maps every incorporated city, village and borough in the United States and gives the official 1910 Census figures for each.

THE PICTORIAL GAZETTEER

is a Topical Cyclopedia of Geography, alphabetically indexed (occupying more than 100 pages), containing a wealth of entirely up-to-date information about countries, states, mountains, islands, rivers, and other civil and physical aspects of the globe.

THE ILLUSTRATIONS

form a charming collection of photographic reproductions that are properly called "The World in Halftone." These beautiful pictures range in size from two inches square to half a page. They appear on an average of two to a page, and number in their midst innumerable portraits of types, and some of the rarest and fairest views in the world.

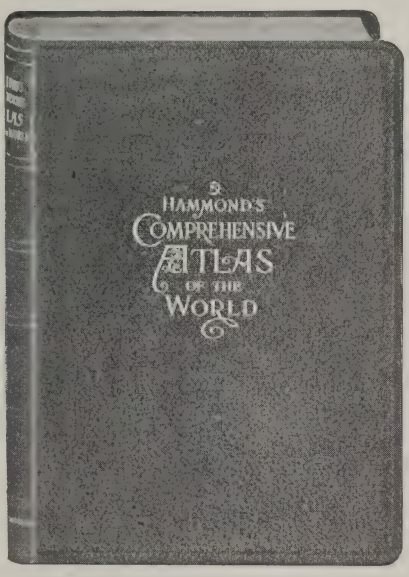
HAMMOND'S
COMPREHENSIVE ATLAS
OF THE WORLD

A NEW IDEA IN ATLAS-MAKING



In this complete publication, a new idea in atlas-making has been evolved as a result of the universal objections to large, bulky and out-of-date atlases.

THE CAUSE

of this dissatisfaction was the fact that all the available atlases were either too large to be easily handled, too small to be complete in detail, or too old to be reliable. No one publication contained large, up-to-date maps, and, at the same time, was sufficiently compact to be conveniently examined.

THE EFFECT

of the prevailing dissatisfaction is the publication of this atlas which combines ALL the requisities mentioned above—a veritable revelation in atlas-making.

Hence, this is the atlas that appeals to everyone—reader, student and business man. Its maps are absolutely down-to-date and are so complete that practically every post-office and railroad station in the United States are legibly named; yet, the book is smaller in length, and only one-half inch wider than this catalogue—and equally as pliable and convenient to read.

Obviously, to bring about this compact result, each state and country has one or more double-page maps devoted to it—some have as many as four, making their combined surface measure as much as 18x22 inches. There are in all 256 pages of maps covering EVERY portion of the earth.

There is no extraneous matter in this compact but comprehensive volume. Following the maps is a Descriptive Gazetteer of the Principal Cities of the World, giving interesting details of the great trade centers, places of historic interest, etc. The balance of the book is devoted to a very complete list of the Cities of the World, giving the latest population statistics and in addition locating each place on the state maps.

The Comprehensive is the first American Atlas of large maps which fits into bookshelves of the usual size and is at the same time the first one to be bound, like a Bible, in full, flexible leather. The flexibility, the convenient size of the book, and its light weight make the atlas an excellent one for ready reference. It takes so little space that it may be readily examined held in one hand, a splendid feature in a library or office book of reference. It is also bound in silk cloth.

The size of the Comprehensive Atlas is 9x7 inches and it contains over 500 pages

HAMMOND'S ILLUSTRATED ATLAS of THE WORLD

To all who follow the current events of the world's news this atlas is an invaluable aid, for not only does it show the geographical location of the place, whence the news emanates, but also briefly describes it in the gazetteer of the atlas.

THE GAZETTEER

This feature has been aptly called "A Geographical Dictionary" for it gives concise and down-to-date descriptions of the principal cities of the world, places of historic interest, resorts, etc. The commercial details in this gazetteer of cities make it of the greatest value.

THE ILLUSTRATED FEATURES

Of especial interest are the pages devoted to the illustrations which form a charming collection of photographic reproductions, over one hundred in number, including views of every portion of the earth arranged in a graphic and attractive manner. A sixteen-page chapter on the Panama Canal describing this great enterprise of the government in text, half-tone, and diagram is of particular interest at the present time as are also the pages pertaining to the Parcel Post Law.

THE MAPS

A more attractive, complete and accurate collection of maps than those included in this work would be hard to find. There are 128 pages of maps, beautifully printed in colors from clean cut and clearly engraved plates, revised to a very recent date. The maps covering the Western Hemisphere occupy over one-half of the map section, two to four pages being devoted to each of the more densely populated states; but, on the other hand, the rest of the earth is by no means neglected. There are full-page maps of all the European countries, and large scale maps of the Far East,—China, Japan, India, the Philippines, etc.. Australia, Oceania, and Africa are likewise treated in detail by means of accurate, up-to-date maps.

A condensed index of counties (or other minor divisions), cities and towns is printed around the margins of the maps, for quick reference purposes.

THE BINDING

The book is strongly and handsomely bound in blue cloth with attractive cover design stamped in three colors. It measures, when closed, 10½ x 13½ inches.

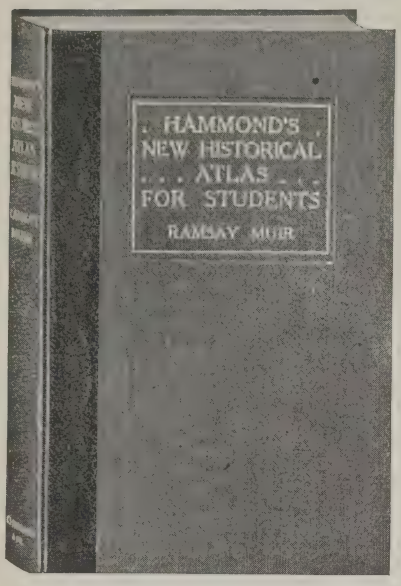
HAMMOND'S NEW
HISTORICAL ATLAS
FOR STUDENTS



The study of Modern History, whether American, English or European, has long been handicapped by the non-existence of a carefully produced historical atlas, covering the whole ground and issued at a price which will place it within the reach of all students. This new atlas, therefore, endeavors to fill this gap. No pains have been spared to achieve this end; every map has been specially drawn and engraved and the entire work has been prepared under the supervision of Ramsay Muir, M.A., Professor of Modern History in the University of Liverpool, England.

This new Historical Atlas numbers in its contents 65 double-page plates, 7¾ x 9½ inches, containing 154 colored maps and diagrams, an introduction of 62 pages, illustrated by 43 maps and plans in black and white and an index of over six thousand names.

SOME OF THE FEATURES WHICH DISTINGUISH THE HAMMOND HISTORICAL ATLAS

¶ Great emphasis is placed upon the physical basis of historical geography. A series of physical maps has been included, carefully designed to show the geography of all the principal areas of historical importance. These maps are placed in proximity to groups of other maps of the same area so that the influence of the build of a country upon its history will be more easily made manifest to the student.

¶ Great care has been taken to avoid a confusing multiplicity of names on the maps; only those names which are likely to be useful to the student have been inserted, giving the maps a clear, legible appearance.

¶ The introduction contains a series of comments upon each of the maps in turn, which will be found of great assistance to the teacher. These bring out the influence of geography upon history and the reasons for rapid changes in political geography which has especially marked certain periods of the world's history.

¶ The engraving and printing leave nothing to be desired, the color work being particularly well executed.

¶ Especial attention must be called to the beautiful bindings of the Historical Atlas. Bound in half leather of an attractive green shade, with side and back stamps in gold, the the book presents a strikingly handsome appearance. It is also bound in durable red cloth with gold cover stamps.

Size of the book, closed, 5¾ inches wide, 8¾ inches long, and 1½ inches thick.

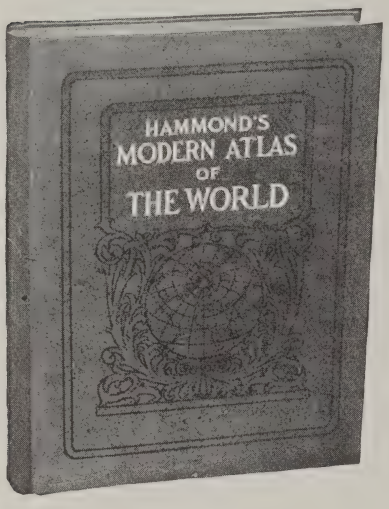
HAMMOND'S
MODERN ATLAS
of THE WORLD



¶ During the last few years numberless changes, which render an old atlas useless, have been wrought. New towns have sprung up; old cities and towns have grown; thousands of miles of new railroads have been built; history has changed the boundaries of countries, and these with numberless other changes are recorded in this new work. It is down to date in every particular.

This new atlas contains 128 pages of MAPS, beautifully printed in colors, representing every portion of the earth as it is TO-DAY. These plates have been engraved from new drawings, based on the latest surveys, and the publishers believe them to be the most complete and carefully edited series of like size covering the whole earth. The lettering is clear and clean cut throughout, carefully graded in size to convey at a glance relative importance of places. Railroads are shown and named and with very few exceptions, in crowded or densely populated sections, every railroad station and post-office is named.

On the margin of each map is an ALPHABETICALLY ARRANGED INDEX OF COUNTIES (or other minor divisions), CITIES AND TOWNS. A division or place may be instantly located without turning the page. The convenience of such a quick reference index will be readily appreciated.

Another valuable feature of this work is a very complete INDEX OF CITIES AND TOWNS of the United States with POPULATION ACCORDING TO THE 1910 CENSUS. This new index is complete and down to date. Populations of Foreign Cities are according to latest reports.

The size of this work is 10½x13½ inches, printed on high finish paper and durably bound in red cloth, with attractive cover stamping.

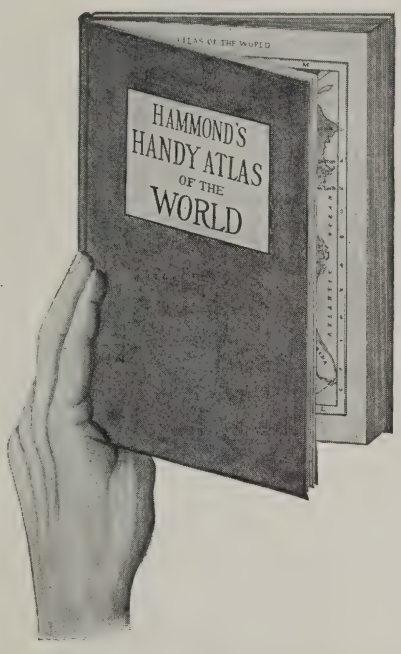
PRICE, $3.00

Each day brings news which cannot be clearly understood without referring to a good map.

No one can intelligently read his daily paper without a reference book such as this new atlas.

Hammond's Handy Atlas of the World

Is the most recent and authoritative, and, therefore, the most reliable atlas of its size published



It contains a new series of ACCURATE AND COMPLETE MAPS, beautifully printed in colors. There are in this collection separate maps of each state, territory, and insular possession of the United States; of each province in Canada; of each country of Europe, and general maps of all other portions of the globe.

In the maps of our states and territories, and of the provinces of Canada, RAILROADS ARE NAMED, and stations are shown, in a very complete manner. These and all other details are brought down to as recent date as in any of the more expensive atlases.

Alphabetically arranged lists of cities give the LATEST POPULATION STATISTICS

The maps in this work are not only new and reliable, but they are legible. Every name is lettered in clean-cut type; no indistinct hand-lettering is used. High-finish paper made expressly for this book is used throughout.

Many, if not most, low-priced atlases are made up of old plates, all but worthless in this era of rapid changes:

COMPARISON OF SIZES

8-inch 10-inch 12-inch 18-inch

¶ Though not usually known, the superficial area of an 18-inch globe is almost twelve times that of an 8-inch globe and more than three times that of a twelve inch globe. On account of the clearness of the engraving which is correspondingly larger, we strongly recommend the 18-inch globe for general purpose.

Our New Suspension Globe

SUSPENSION GLOBE

REPRESENTING the latest and most effective manner of mounting for schoolroom purposes. Hanging, as it does, from the ceiling of the room, it is in plain view of every pupil, and utilizes space, otherwise wasted. This feature of mounting does away with any possible injury to the globe by being upset or knocked over, as is often the case with other styles. Can be raised or lowered at will and rotates on every conceivable diameter.

This globe has had the most remarkable sale of any school globe ever manufactured, and is gaining more and more in popular favor every day. Users are most enthusiastic in their praise, and we do not hesitate to recommend this globe very highly to any school now unequipped.

No. 1807. 18-inch Ball; complete with pulleys, cord, etc.
Price, - - $23.00

NOTE—On account of the cost of transportation we do not supply the weight. An ordinary 12-inch sash weight is all that is required and can be purchased from your local dealer for a matter of twenty-five cents or so. By painting it can easily be greatly improved in appearance.

Mission Library Globes

The stands are made of specially selected quarter sawed oak, weathered finish. The book rack feature on the bottom utilizes space which heretofore has been wasted. It is an attractive piece of furniture.

METAL HOUR DISCS

All the Terrestrial Globes described in this catalog are fitted with Circular Metal Discs attached to the North Pole.

These have stamped on them the 24 hours of the day, and by placing the disc in such a position as to indicate the time at New York or Chicago (or point where observation is made) the time at any other place on earth is instantly ascertained.

LARGER FULL MOUNTED GLOBE

¶ Although our regular-sized globes meet the requirements of most people, we sometimes receive calls for a larger globe, and accordingly, this full mounted globe, 30 inches in diameter, has been made. It is mounted on a handsome quartered-oak stand, 55 inches in height, and is fitted with horizon, movable meridian and hour circles, complete in every detail. The meridian can be furnished in nickel, antique copper or plated brass. The globe and horizon can be rotated on the pedestal and the map is down-to-date in every particular.

30-Inch Globe
PRICE, $250.00

¶ This globe was designed for public libraries, high schools and colleges, but, because of its size, permitting an extraordinary amount of detail, it is now in some of the largest offices and private libraries throughout the country.

¶ It is, without exception, the finest globe ever produced. The cut shown herewith gives but a small idea of this handsome apparatus and the most lengthy description cannot convey the attractiveness, excellence and general utility of this article.

SPECIAL STAND GLOBES

¶ Below are illustrations of two exceedingly popular varieties of plain stand globes. One style is intended for those desiring a less expensive globe than our regular line and the other for those who prefer a wooden pedestal.

Nos. 800 and 1200

¶ The globe shown at the left differs only in mounting from our regular 8-inch and 12-inch globes. The ball is exactly the same but the stand is of lighter construction.

JUST OFF THE PRESS

HAMMOND'S ENLARGED RAILROAD AND COUNTY MAP of THE UNITED STATES

This brand new map is a marvel of thoroughness and accuracy—the "last word" in map-publishing. As it's name implies, the new map is SOMEWHAT larger in proportions than the usual map of this country, but it is a GREAT DEAL larger in respect to scope, value and legibility. Every feature of an ordinary map of the United States is uniformly enlarged and shown on this new map with remarkable distinctness. Especially welcome is the enlargement of the lettering throughout; the type used is sufficiently large to be read without difficulty and there is no confusion even in the most congested sections.

Just coming from the press, it contains many very recent geographical changes. All late railroad extensions, new names and boundaries of counties and changes in place names are correctly shown on this map.

It may be safely said that no other map extant contains as much information as the ENLARGED RAILROAD AND COUNTY MAP OF THE UNITED STATES. It shows every state, territory, county, county seat, city; also post-offices and railroad stations; every mile of railroad, the routes of regular water transportation (including those of the Great Lakes), all the rivers, lakes, mountains (with elevations of the highest peaks), canals, national parks, etc., etc.

The appearance of this map is one of striking beauty, its clearness is unsurpassed, and its utility, vast and lasting, making the map a masterpiece of cartography

The engraving is of the highest order, and, in printing the map, the very finest results have been obtained.

It has been the desire of the publishers to give this map a clear, legible appearance, and, to this end all unnecessary, confusing colors have been omitted. The water, shown in blue, and the state and county boundaries, in light green are the only tints on the REGULAR EDITION, so that no names are obliterated by heavy shading, not at all essential on a commercial map.

GEOGRAPHICAL TERMS

A Splendid New Chart Illustrating Clearly, Concisely and Interestingly the Initiatory Steps in the Study of Geography.

The following subjects are illustrated in beautifully harmonizing colors:

1.—A Large Pictorial Landscape, Illustrating Graphically the Chief Features of Land and Water.
2.—A Large Map Corresponding With the Landscape, Illustrating the Various Geographical Definitions, Political and Physical.
3.—Picture of Schoolhouse, and Ground Plan of Same.
4.—Picture of Neighborhood Surrounding School, and Corresponding Map.
5.—Picture Illustrating Method of Ascertaining Direction by the Sun.
6.—Map of World, Illustrating Points of the Compass.
7.—Map of World, Showing Divisions of Land and Water, Zones, etc.
8.—The World in Space.

¶ It is suggested that the picture and the map be always taught together. When the children can recognize the course of the river on the picture they should trace it on the map. Afterwards the picture can be used as a blank map is used, i. e., for testing the knowledge of the class.

Points to Which Attention May Be Drawn.

¶ The clouds working up and covering the mountains; all except the high peak in the distance. The snow-covered mountain range and the glacier, the source of the river. Its unnavigable portion to the waterfall; below the waterfall boats can sail upon it. This part is called the lower river; the other the upper river. The valley through which the upper river runs has been worn wider by the rain and frost, and deeper by the river.

¶ The hills are barren, and on the lower ground are trees; firs in left hand corner, and a group of seven poplars on the bank of the stream.

¶ The old village nestles in a valley near the bridge, its church tower being plainly seen, while the new town with its docks and chimneys stands near the harbor. [Harbors were not safe in early days, sea robbers visited them, so towns were built far up the stream.]

¶ Across the plain a railway runs, keeping to the level ground but going as direct as possible.

¶ The breakwater is so arranged that the sea waves driven by the westerly winds shall not run up the harbor. There is smooth water and safe anchorage in the harbor. Breakwaters are built by man.

¶ The word Archipelago (pr. Arkipel'ago) is used to indicate either the water space in which there are islands, or the islands themselves.

¶ The rocks of the Peninsula Headland are of limestone, white and hard. The cliffs forming the Cape are of clay and are easily worn. The island is being gradually washed away by the sea.

PHILIPS'
Comparative Series of Wall Atlases

There can be no disputing the fact that the most successful means of teaching the rudiments of any subject is by application of the study of cause and effect, but to present graphically the chief facts of Geography by this method has heretofore been an impossibility. Nothing is of greater importance to a student of Geography and nothing is more difficult for him to comprehend than the essential connections between such phenomena as climate, temperature, rainfall, vegetation and relief of the land.

A NEW DEPARTURE

In this new Comparative Series of Wall Atlases, all these facts, for the first time, have been collated and summarized in a convenient form, in which comparison is not only easily effected but is convincingly clear as well. Each wall atlas is a collection of eight maps, uniform in size and covering the same portion of the world but each devoting itself exclusively to the delineation of one great fundamental feature of physical geography as follows:

1. Relief of Land and Communications
2. Political
3. Summer Climate
4. Winter Climate
5. Temperature
6. Natural Vegetation
7. Economic
8. Density of Population

The size of each map is 43 x 33 inches and the atlases in the series consist of the following titles:

NORTH AMERICA
SOUTH AMERICA
EUROPE
AUSTRALASIA
BRITISH ISLES (see foot-note)

THE FACTS SHOWN

The series deals with all the chief facts of Geography which can be effectively expressed in map form. The Relief of the Land and the Communication Routes which it determines; the Pressure and Winds and the Resulting Rainfall of Summer and of Winter respectively; the Temperatures of Summer and of Winter; the Natural Vegetation which results from the climatic conditions, the chief Agricultural Products which are obtained under the varying climatic conditions; the Mineral Products and the Regions of Industrial Activity of which they are the basis; the Density of Population as an index both to the combined resources and to the relative importance of areas; the Division of the Land into Political Units—these are the subject matter which the maps exhibit.

THE APPEARANCE OF THE MAPS

Details have been omitted and the essential facts only are shown. The colors have been carefully selected so that these necessary facts stand out with remarkable distinctness. In consequence, the maps can be easily read by the whole class and appeal to the eye of the scholar. They are practical teaching aids and not a mass of indistinguishable details suited only for reference purposes.

THE NEW AUTHENTIC SERIES MAPS

No material of a geographic nature is as constantly sought as a reliable series of pocket maps of continents and countries, and it is entirely because of their up-to-dateness, general accuracy, and low price that the Authentic Series has enjoyed a popularity exceeded by no other line.

These maps, covering, on a large scale, every important portion of the civilized globe are based on the most recent surveys and other reliable data, while the greatest care and precision have been exercised in their engraving and printing.

Four distinquishing features mark the preparation of these maps:

1. MINUTE DETAIL. It may be safely said that no other maps contain small details to such a degree of completeness. They show the political divisions of countries, sub-divisions, and states. Railways are accurately and distinctly delineated and principal roads, submarine telegraph lines, etc. are given.

2. GREAT CLEARNESS. By the careful elimination of unimportant details and by the distinct lettering throughout, all confusion and illegibility have been successfully avoided; the maps can be examined and the desired imformation obtained without the slightest difficulty.

3. LARGE SCALE. Serving also to increase the legibility of the maps, their large scale appeals to all tourists and travelers, as well as those who require that the delineation of even the smallest details be accurate.

4. DISTINCT COLORING. The boundaries of all political divisions are indicated by light tints, which give the maps a strikingly beautiful appearance, without obliterating any of the place names.

The compactness of these maps in their light blue cloth cases adds to their general attractiveness and utility.

CHARLEVOIX'S HISTORY OF NEW FRANCE

Translated from the original edition, with notes, by Dr. John Gilmary Shea. A new edition, with life of the Translator and Bibliography of his writings, by Noah Farnham Morrison.

The importance of Dr. Shea's translation of Rev. P. F. X. De Charlevoix's History and General Description of New France, as an original authority and standard reference work cannot be overestimated. The New France of that date (1740) was far more than what we now know as Canada. It embraced the best part of the North American Continent. Thus Charlevoix, besides giving a full history of Canada down to 1740, relates in detail the early annals of Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, New York, Michigan, Illinois and Northwestern States, and Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas. This new edition contains over 40 illustrations, including all the maps, steel portraits, etc. Limited to 750 numbered sets. 6 vols., 8vo, cloth, uncut, - - - - - - $18.00 net per set

This important work, of which a very limited number was published by the author thirty years ago, is now very rare. A fire having destroyed a large portion of certain of the volumes, only about 150 complete sets were ever sold.

AMERICAN EXPLORERERS SERIES NO. 4

History of Early Steamboat Navigation on the Missouri River

By MAJOR HIRAM M. CHITTENDEN, U. S. ENGINEER CORPS.

The Life and Adventures of Joseph La Barge, Pioneer Navigator and Indian Trader. For fifty years identified with the commerce of the Missouri Valley. Map, portraits and illustrations from early photographs. 2 vols., 8vo, cloth. (Edition limited to 950 copies.) - - - - - - - - - - - - $6.00 net

A valuable and interesting original work by the author of "The American Fur Trade of the Far West." Very few people now have any conception of the part the steamboat navigation of the Missouri River played in the upbuilding of the West. The business of the fur trade, the intercourse of government agents with the Indians, the campaigns of the army throughout the valley and the wild rush of gold-seekers to the mountains, all depended, in greater or less degree, upon the Missouri River as a line of transportation. No other river in this country has a record to compare with it. From beginning to end it abounds in thrilling incident, and the life which it fostered was full of picturesque and even tragic details.

MARGARET WIDDEMER

AUTHOR OF "THE ROSE GARDEN HUSBAND"

Why Not?

Four Illustrations in Color by George Hood

Wrapper in Colors by George Hood

12mo.

Price $1.25 Net

"There's no reason why not," says the author—no reason why all of us should not realize our dreams. Miss Widdemer has written one of those delightful stories designed to make people happier. She has recaptured all of "the first fine careless rapture" of her notable success, "The Rose Garden Husband," and has added new elements of beauty and charm.

The heroine, Rosamond Gilbert, on receipt of a legacy of three thousand dollars from an uncle who has brought her up too strictly, decides to go off and be happy, instead of taking up a profession. So she takes a bungalow at a summer resort—and meets a shy, lonely man. She also adopts a child, helps out several other people, makes them happy, and is finally made happy herself. Of course—why not?

To read such a book is to rediscover the fact that life is worth living.

ANNA MCCLURE SHOLL

AUTHOR OF "THE GREATER LOVE," ETC.

This Way Out

Wrapper in Colors by George Welp

12mo.

Price $1.25 Net

Detective stories provoke unusual curiosity when the detective is a woman. The scope of the man detective is limited because he works, as a rule, under hard-and-fast prepossessions. A sympathetic and understanding woman, on the other hand, is not bound by the technic of investigation but uses her intuitions. Thus Margaret Carpenter, by the aid of both heart and head, solves many knotty problems that are presented to her and provides "the way out."

Among the mysteries treated in this volume are the murder of a brutal cooper who abused an animal, the disappearance of a diamond, and the crime at Wildfell Hall. The author's gift of psychological insight is well exemplified in this entertaining series of tales.

MRS. HUMPHRY WARD

AUTHOR OF "DELIA BLANCHFLOWER," ETC.

Eltham House

Frontispiece in Colors by Frank Crane

Large 12mo.

Price $1.35 Net

In "Eltham House," Mrs. Ward has written what is unquestionably one of her greatest novels.

The story opens with the arrival of Alec Wing and his bride at the palatial London residence, "Eltham House," the gift of Lord Wing, the bridegroom's father. They discover very quickly that love-making under Tuscan skies is one thing and wooing British social and political favor—and forgiveness—is quite another; especially when the lady happens to be already a wife and mother.

The situation is as follows: Alec Wing, selfish, arrogant, but not altogether heartless, has laid violent and successful siege to the affections of Sir John Marsworth's young and beautiful wife. After her divorce, they return to London and seek to combat the hostility of public opinion, to achieve social and political preferment—in other words, to attempt what Lord and Lady Holland did a century ago.

What headway they made against British Pharisaism, how far they succeeded in propitiating Society, how cabinet ministers, parliamentarians, dowagers and generals regarded the culprits, and how the affair reacted upon the two chief characters in the drama—this is the theme of Mrs. Ward's latest novel of English social and political life, "Eltham House," which promises to be, as it certainly deserves to be, the most important fiction book of the autumn.

Has proved her right to claim a first position among the novelists of the day. Outlook.

Its author stands among the few living writers of fiction to whom the Immortals have passed the torch. Gordon Pryor Rice.

She gives to her dialogue a careful beauty of phrase and cadence. Saturday Review.

She is one of the few persons who have solved the secret of what dialogue ought to be. Saturday Review.

Any book from her pen may safely be guaranteed to fill many charmed and thoughtful hours. David Christie Murray.

With the aid of these works, students of the history of our race will for all time be able to get a glimpse of "the hidden resources" and real forces of English society. J. Stuart Walters.

Her seriousness is, indeed, one of her prime qualities as a writer. She has never trifled with her art nor shaped it to meet the taste of the hour. Hamilton Wright Mabie.

FREEMAN TILDEN

AUTHOR OF "THE DEFECTIVE," ETC.

That Night

And Other Satires

Frontispiece by Frederic Dorr Steele

Price $1.00 Net

The first volume of satirical short stories ever published in America, by the greatest master of satire in the American short story. One of the tales, The Defective, is to be included in a volume of model short stories from the magazines to be issued by the Oxford University Press next winter.

The title story, That Night, is an inimitable satire on the sex stories with which various magazines have been flooded. It will make the most blasé reader chuckle.

Another story, The Good Influence, is especially interesting because of its connection with O. Henry. In a chat with Freeman Tilden, one day, O. Henry said: "Sometime I'm going to write a story about a boy spoiled by good influences." He died before he could carry out his purpose. But Mr. Tilden has written it. Taking merely the story idea from O. Henry, he has developed the plot in his own way. O. Henry would have liked it. And so will thousands of readers.

Not to know Freeman Tilden's work is to miss the best in American satire.

CORRA HARRIS

AUTHOR OF "THE CIRCUIT RIDER'S WIFE," "EVE'S SECOND HUSBAND," ETC.

Justice

Four Illustrations by Gayle Hoskins

Wrapper in Colors by Gayle Hoskins

12mo.

Price 50c Net

In "Justice," Corra Harris has succeeded in laying bare the elemental things in human nature. With strong, swift, sure strokes, she has portrayed Man, Woman, Law, Crime, Society as they are—as the Deity might see them. She has torn away the mask which has shielded marriage. She has shorn the law court of its power and pomp, and has evoked the spirit of justice—as different from the figure of justice as love is from its travesty. She has forced judges to acknowledge their uncertain tenure, to blanch at their play-acting. She has made them admit the unreason, the inequality, the one-sexedness of human justice as represented by law. She has swept her stage clear of everything but the prime essentials. There is the severe simplicity of an old Miracle Play in this stern, yet tender story of human relations as they appear when dragged before a man-made judge and jury.

Dramatic, reflective, wise with the wisdom of generations of suffering women, this is at once a document in feminism and an arraignment of man's natural lawlessness. "Men are lawless and always will be, to a certain limit which they determine themselves, and our system of law, which is fictitious, is the only one they'll stand, because it is fictitious."

A thrilling story of mystery and crime, which starts at Washington, D. C., and ends in India. Many victims to the God of the Invincibly Strong Arms are sacrificed before the plot is solved by an intrepid American.

Written in a strong, vivid style, this story will at once attract attention to the work of a comparatively new author who has himself had a varied and adventurous career. Keep your eye on Achmed Abdullah! He has a brilliant future as a novelist.

Sheykh Achmed Abdullah is a nephew of the Emir of Afghanistan. He was sent from that mysterious country to be educated at Oxford, but the restraint he felt under the conservatism of the English university was irksome, and he left without taking his degree. Later he studied at the Sorbonne in Paris, and at a university in Germany. Returning to the East, he was given a commission in the English army in India. He saw service also with the United States army in the Philippines.

Abdullah has traveled widely and knows many of the most inaccessible portions of the world. He speaks a dozen or more languages, and much of his writing has appeared in English, French, and German magazines.

MARION HARLAND

AUTHOR OF "ALONE" (THE AUTHOR'S FIRST NOVEL, PUBLISHED SIXTY YEARS AGO), "A GALLANT FIGHT," "MARION HARLAND'S COMPLETE COOK BOOK," ETC.

A Long Lane

A Chronicle of Old New Jersey

Frontispiece in Colors by George Welp

Wrapper in Colors by George Welp

Large 12mo.

Price $1.35 Net

A wise and strong story of sin and its inevitable punishment, by an author long known to American readers. Ripe with the wisdom of its author's eighty-four years, this "chronicle of old New Jersey" will take rank as a story of much more than passing interest.

The scene of the story is laid in the mountainous region of Northern New Jersey—a section singularly rich in history, romance and tradition. The author writes of places and people as she knew them fifty years ago, while the Knickerbocker traditions still pervaded all classes.

We read of "old families" who cultivated lands deeded to their ancestors by grants from Queen Anne; of yeomanry with pedigrees as long, who had not lost the stamp of the Holland peasantry. The leading and contrasting figures are a patrician ironmaster, enriched by the stored wealth of the mountains among which he counts his acres by the thousand, and a near-millionaire, born in a log hut at the base of the foothills, who made his fortune, like Caleb Plummer's boy, in "the golden South Americas," and came back to his native Kinnapeg to awaken former neighbors and kindred to possibilities of luxury and self-aggrandizement never dreamed of in their simple lives.

Every one of the dramatis personae has the clearness of a photograph from life. Love, vanity, ambition, the pride and prejudice of sanctimonious "members in good and regular standing" in the Church (which here could mean nothing but the "Reformed Dutch"), frown down the ex-convict and the repentent Magdalen as virtuously as in our more enlightened generation. Christ-like charity and virile piety are exemplified in Dominie de Baun—the Greatheart, born half a century too soon, who yet lived to see the final triumph of truth and right.

One marvels, in reading the stirring tale, that a field so promising should have lain so long untilled.

With Marion Harland, this, her latest book, is evidently a labor of love. For forty-odd years, she tells us, materials have been accumulating in her hands until all that was left for her to do was to select and sort from a plethora of treasures.

DONN BYRNE

AUTHOR OF "BIPLANE NO. 2," ETC.

Stories Without Women

And a Few with Women

Frontispiece by T. J. Skidmore

Wrapper in colors by T. J. Skidmore

12mo.

Price $1.25 Net

Like Kipling and Stevenson, Mr. Byrne prefers to write stories of men in a world of men—stories of action, struggle and worth-while achievement. A woman does not interest him "unless she has a good many of the qualities of a man." But the tales in this volume will stir the blood of all healthy readers, whether men or women. Vivid, colorful, of distinguished literary quality, they are not to be confounded with the commonplace product of hasty, careless, journalistic scribblers.

Biplane No. 2, a story of the present war in Europe, was starred by a critic in the Boston Transcript as one of the best short stories of 1914. Equally good is Underseaboat F-33, a remarkable narrative of the dramatic end of a German submarine.

Then there are two studies of prize-fighting that show inside knowledge and are so vivid that the reader sees the flicker of gloves and hears the thud of the blows; also an unforgettable picture of a massacre of Jews in Russia (In a Cellar) and a moving story of a return of a colony of the Hebrew race to their original home in Palestine. The close has an Old Testament atmosphere that is remarkably impressive. To lend variety, the author has added a motion-picture tale, (Black Medicine) laid in the African bush.

Finally, there are a few stories with women—for Mr. Byrne couldn't leave them out altogether.

To Be Dramatized into a Photo-play by Basil Ellis Dickey

Professor Norton, famous South American explorer and archeologist, appeals to Craig Kennedy to trace an ancient Peruvian dagger which has been mysteriously stolen from the museum at the university where Kennedy is professor of chemistry.

Kennedy unearths a clue, but before he even has a chance to follow it up, his friend, Walter Jameson, on the Star, reports the strange murder of Don Luis de Mendoza in his suite in a fashionable hotel downtown. Don Luis is a well-known and influential Peruvian, a man of affairs and an accomplished scholar.

Kennedy finds that the murder has been committed with the stolen Inca dagger, about which cluster the weirdest superstitions.

Inez, the beautiful daughter of Don Luis, adds her entreaties to find the murderer of her father.

Mendoza and an American friend, an engineer named Lockwood, have been engaged in raising capital to search for the great treasure of the Incas known to have been buried in the mounds at Truxillo at the time of Pizarro's conquest of Peru.

The perilous search for the murderer and the secret of "the gold of the gods" leads through a series of thrilling adventures which tax to the utmost Craig Kennedy's scientific skill in wringing the truth from a group of intensely modern Wall Street capitalists on the one hand and implacable descendants of a proud Inca family on the other.

NOTE.—The publishers have persuaded Mr. Reeve, one of the highest paid writers of detective stories in the world, to sacrifice large immediate profits to give booksellers the first chance to say, "Here is the latest big detective novel, not published serially." Needless to say, it will be dramatized and serialized later.

JOHN COULSON TREGARTHEN

AUTHOR OF "LIFE AT LAND'S END," "THE STORY OF AN OTTER," ETC.

The Story of a Hare

Eight Illustrations from Photographs

Decorative Wrapper

Large 12mo.

Price $1.25 Net

Cornwall has been the scene of some of the best novels of Charles Marriott, John Masefield and Thomas Hardy. J. C. Tregarthen has made this wild, picturesque country the background of a quaint narrative, entitled "The Story of a Hare," which deals with the primitive Cornwall of bygone days.

Often as this little animal has figured in fable and proverb (not to mention Lewis Carroll's classic) this is the first time that it has been the subject of a lengthy story, and no one was better qualified to write it than the President of the Midland Cornish Association.

In his preface to the volume, Mr. Tregarthen says, "My aim has been to present a picture instinct with the spirit of the wild, of the upland, moor and cliff of the Land's End at a time when the prey and the beast of prey roamed the night fearless of snare and gin—and man rarely intruded by day—under conditions rapidly fading into oblivion, which seem worthy of record before they disappear forever."

For lovers of nature, lovers of wild creatures and lovers of hunting, "The Story of a Hare" will have a charm comparable to that of "The Biography of a Grizzly" and "The Jungle Book," and the glimpses of picturesque old Cornwall add to, rather than detract from the interest of this quaint chronicle. To the attention of posterity, Mr. Tregarthen's books will have a double claim: their sensitive delineation of Cornish wild life and their sympathetic record of old-time Cornish hunting types.

JOHN COULSON TREGARTHEN

AUTHOR OF "LIFE AT LAND'S END," "THE STORY OF A HARE," ETC.

The Story of an Otter

Eight Illustrations from Photographs

Decorative Wrapper

Large 12mo.

Price $1.25 Net

This is a companion volume to the author's "The Story of a Hare," and is a notable addition to the literature which includes the work of men like Rudyard Kipling, Charles G. D. Roberts and Ernest Thompson-Seton. A distinct contribution to the library of wild life, Mr. Tregarthen's stories are unique in preserving sympathetically, accurately and with charm the fast-fading features of old-time Cornwall.

There is an old Hindoo proverb, "It is vain to look for yesterday's fish in the house of an otter," and it will soon be quite as useless to look in Cornwall for the old-time hunting and hunters for which it is justly famous. Happily, the characteristics of this quaint hunting ground, together with the qualities and traits of the wild creatures of the country have been preserved by Mr. Tregarthen in his delightful book.

To his familiarity with Cornwall, its animals, its habitants, its dialects and its customs, Mr. Tregarthen adds the gift of expression and a talent for capturing quaintnesses of phrase and subtleties of human and animal character.

One of the most interesting creatures of the wild, the otter has never before had a story of its own, and certainly it could not have chosen a more sympathetic biographer than Mr. Tregarthen

René Bull

Illustrator of "The Russian Ballet," "Omar Khayyam," "The Arabian Nights"

Carmen

By Prosper Merimée

Sixteen Colored Plates

Eighty Drawings, Decorations, and Papers

Translated by A. E. Johnson

Quarto, 9 x 11½ Inches

Price $5.00 Net, Boxed

No character in fiction has achieved more world-wide celebrity than the fated heroine of Prosper Merimée's classic tale. It is upon that story that the libretto of Bizet's brilliant opera is based, but the latter varies in many essential points from the original tale, which is even more swift and dramatic than the sequence of events seen upon the stage.

Among modern illustrators few have achieved a greater popularity than Mr. René Bull, whose brilliant series of illustrations to "The Arabian Nights," "Omar Khayyám," and "The Russian Ballet" is now capped by a fine set of drawings, 16 in color and about 80 in black and white, depicting the vivid incidents of "Carmen." The setting of the tale—Spain of more than 80 years ago—has provided an admirable opportunity for the artist's sense of the picturesque, and Mr. René Bull's series of illustrations realize the scene in a manner that has never been achieved before.

Mr. A. E. Johnson has made an entirely new translation from the French, and adds an interesting note upon the difference between the original story and the operatic libretto constructed therefrom by MM. Meilhac and Halévy.

WALTER TYNDALE, R. I.

AUTHOR OF "AN ARTIST IN EGYPT," ETC.

An Artist in the Riviera

Twenty-eight Colored Plates

Numerous Black and White Illustrations Throughout Text

Quarto Volume, 9 x 11½ Inches

Price $5.00 Net, Boxed

This volume contains a record of the people Mr. Tyndale met, of the things he saw and of some historical incidents associated with the places he painted.

The book does not pretend to be a guide to the Riviera, as the "Sights" of every town on that coast have been adequately pointed out and described by others; but if lovers of the picturesque will follow the writer to his various sketching grounds, they will be introduced to many places happily still unspoiled by the promoter of "health resorts" and the speculative builder.

Mr. Tyndale uses the term Riviera as it is understood by those who dwell there, that is to say, the coast stretching from the Gulf of Spezia to the Var, or western boundary of the province of Nice.

Having spent some years in Italy, the author has made many friends among the people of that country, which enables him to give much information as to their habits and mode of living, and he has also gained some knowledge of the views they hold of our own countrymen who visit their shores.

The Principles of Human Nutrition

Photogravure Frontispiece

Four Illustrations from Photographs

Large 12mo.

Price $2.00 Net

Inasmuch as the physical environment of the body influences very strongly the mental and moral traits of the individual, it is easy to see that the diet must exert a profound influence on the character of the individual.

The nutrition of man is consequently a fundamental condition of development. It has become a popular fad in some scientific circles to "pooh-pooh" the character of the food in nutrition. This tendency is wholly illogical because it neglects the primary step in nutrition, which is purity and wholesomeness of foods. A student of nutrition cannot measure up to the full value of his service who does not begin his study with the food itself.

Experience has shown that many of the faults of nutrition result in the production of grave injury to the body, the development of particular and destructive diseases and the limitation of growth and activity. The presentation of these fundamental facts of nutrition in language which the intelligent layman can fully understand will certainly do much good.

In this volume Dr. Wiley presents in popular form the results of a life-long personal investigation. His writings are recognized as authoritative by physicians and scientists the world over.

Orders taken for each volume individually or for the complete set. Complete sets boxed.

A great military history by a man peculiarly fitted for the task. To a judicial temper and a commanding intellect, Hilaire Belloc adds a faculty of literary expression that will give permanence to this as to many of his other works. He is one of the few living writers who combine the popular touch with high literary ability.

The preliminary volume treats of the causes of the Great War, the remarkable differences between the French and the German military strategy, the momentous issues involved in the violation of the neutrality of Belgium, and the course of events to September 5th, 1914. Mr. Belloc has laid before us in wonderfully clear, fascinating and convincing fashion every point necessary to the layman's understanding of this tremendous upheaval of civilization.

Since Macaulay's "History of England" there have been few historical pages so eloquent as the twelve pages that close this initial volume, "The First Phase." The complete work, probably in six volumes, will at once take rank as one of the greatest histories of this greatest of wars.

"The Elements of the Great War" is not a partisan document, but a masterly presentation of truth, written in a scientific spirit which scrupulously separates fact from conjecture.

WILLIAM E. CARSON

AUTHOR OF "SOCIAL PROBLEMS OF TO-DAY," "MEXICO, THE WONDERLAND OF THE SOUTH," ETC.

The Marriage Revolt

A Study of Marriage and Divorce

Four Illustrations from Photographs

Large 12mo.

Price $2.00 Net

As a traveler and investigator Mr. Carson is well known, his two preceding books, "Social Problems of To-Day" and "Mexico, the Wonderland of the South," having run through several editions. A long newspaper career has served to make him a close observer and an entertaining writer, and his present work is replete with human interest.

Carefully analyzing the views of Ibsen, Ellen Key, Bernard Shaw and other radicals, the author strikingly reveals the causes of the worldwide revolt against matrimonial conventions, as witnessed by the amazing growth of divorce. The whole divorce question is impartially discussed. A mass of evidence is also presented which seems to prove that a new system of marriage is actually being evolved. In a final summing up, the author gives an outline of the probable divorce law of the future as well as a forecast of the future marriage.

Though the book covers an unusually wide field and represents an unusual amount of study and investigation, it is by no means prosaic. Many chapters contain points of even thrilling interest. Dealing frankly but not objectionably with the perplexing sex problems of today, it is a book which should be in the hands of every thinking man and woman, married or unmarried.

Among the subjects discussed are the following:

Why marriage fails, the causes of increasing divorce, the demand for sexual freedom, trial marriages, childless unions, woman's revolt, the good side of easy divorce, science and marriage, eugenics, sex education, the new morality, the coming marriage.

Professor Philip B. Kennedy, of New York University, Department of Economics, says:

"There is a great deal of public interest in the topics considered in this treatise. I think that the general reader on economic or social subjects wishes to have a good deal of meat in a book, and yet to have it readable. This book has a great deal of substance and body to it, but not enough to make it dull."

ROBERT MICHELS

PROFESSOR OF POLITICAL ECONOMY AND STATISTICS, UNIVERSITY OF BASLE

Political Parties

A Sociological Study of the Oligarchical Tendencies of Modern Democracy

Quarto

Price $3.50 Net

Professor Michels is of German birth, but has spent most of his adult life in foreign lands. For several years he was Professor of Political Economy at Turin, and owes his recent appointment at Basle very largely to the renown acquired by his "Sociology of Political Parties," published first in Germany, subsequently enlarged and improved in Italian, and since then translated into French and Japanese.

The fundamental thesis of Michels' sociological theory is that an iron law leads to the formation of an oligarchy in all political parties, regardless of the nature of the doctrines they profess, whether monarchic, aristocratic, or democratic. He finds in party life a threefold root of oligarchy: in the psychology of the individual; in the psychology of the crowd, and in the social necessity of party organization.

This translation from the Italian edition of 1912 contains amplifications and corrections by the author, and a supplementary chapter, showing how his prophecies have been substantiated by the events immediately preceding the outbreak of the Great War.

HENRY SMITH WILLIAMS, M.D., LL.D.

AUTHOR OF "ADDING YEARS TO YOUR LIFE," ETC., SECRETARY OF THE LUTHER BURBANK SOCIETY OF AMERICA.

Luther Burbank:

His Life and Work

Eight color plates and numerous illustrations from photographs

Wrapper in colors

Quarto

Price $2.50 Net

A popular account of the work of Luther Burbank, the famous Santa Rosa plant experimenter, with fruits, garden vegetables, flowers, lawn grasses, shrubs and trees. The author's purpose is to enable the reader to follow out experiments along similar lines—to "Burbankize" his own orchard and garden and dooryard.

As editor-in-chief of the Burbank publications, Dr. Williams has been brought intimately into contact with the work of the Santa Rosa experimenter in all its details. Moreover, Dr. Williams is himself an experienced practical horticulturist, and possesses wide biological knowledge. The newest theories of heredity are fully explained in this volume. It is not too much to say that a person equipped with this new knowledge may sometimes accomplish in two or three generations of selective breeding what would formerly have required many years of haphazard experiments.

Such practical subjects as seed-planting and the care of seedlings; pruning, grafting, and budding fruit trees; pollenizing all manner of flowers to produce new varieties; and selective line breeding to accentuate the desired qualities, are treated in ample detail. There are also stimulating suggestions in the section on the "breeding of the human plant" as to the application of knowledge gained in field and laboratory to the practical side of eugenics, including such questions as the influence of heredity versus that of environment; cousin marriages; the tendency to disease, and the like.

HUDSON MAXIM

INVENTOR, PHILOSOPHER AND SCIENTIST.

Defenseless America

Sixteen Diagrams and Maps

Quarto

Price $2.00 Net

"A Call to Arms Against War"

Since the outbreak of the European War, many volumes on the conflict have been published in the United States,—interesting and instructive descriptions of modern arms and tactics by technicians; inside information on the causes of the War by diplomats and statesmen.

Nevertheless, a need has been felt for something further.

"Defenseless America" by Hudson Maxim, inventor, philosopher, scientist and critic, is a book that fills this widefelt need. It is a call to arms and a battle-cry. In it we find ourselves defenseless either to prevent war, or to save ourselves from disaster should war come, while our very unpreparedness makes war almost inevitable. The author writes a most vigorous and convincing appeal to the American people to prepare, and adequately to prepare, as an insurance against war, to save the country from humiliation and disaster.

Mr. Maxim is not only a scientist, but also a man of strong feeling. Thus his book has the charm of being at once a scientific and philosophic treatise and a forceful, patriotic appeal to the American citizen. It is enlivened by a plentiful sprinkling of wit and humor. In fact, there is not a dry page within its covers.

Some of the chapter titles are:

Dangerous Preachments
Can Law Be Substituted for War?
Language of the Big Guns
Aerial Warfare
Ego-Fanatic Good Intentions and Their Relation to National Defense.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT WRITES:

"The prime duty for this nation is to prepare itself so that it can protect itself, and this is the duty you are preaching in your admirable volume, Defenseless America."—Letter to Mr. Maxim, June, 1915.

LOS ANGELES TIMES:

"A powerful book on an imminent and national problem that every thinking citizen should read with care."

PHILADELPHIA PUBLIC LEDGER:

"A book by an expert in modern armament who writes with graphic power what he knows better than any one in this country—a solemn warning."

BOSTON TRANSCRIPT:

"Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Maxim are firmly convinced of the fact that the surest insurance against war is an army and navy able to make war. It is safer for a country like the United States with so large a territory to defend, to prepare so that no foreign nation will be anxious to try a struggle with us. The peace of the United States will then rest on a firm foundation."

A handbook of motion-picture technique. It is based upon many years' experience which Mr. Ball acquired as a staging director, staff writer and scenario editor with the leading motion-picture companies of the country. With more than three hundred produced plays to his credit, he is entitled to rank as one of the American authorities on the subject—one which engrosses more than eight million Americans daily, in the nineteen thousand picture-play theatres of the country.

The combination of novelist, dramatist and technical expert is unusual, but with a training in Harvard University and a Western college, and several years of newspaper and magazine experience, the author brings some interesting and original theories to apply to his fiction and essay work.

Thirty thousand motion-picture plays are produced in America every year. The best scenarios come from independent writers—new authors, who need this latest, most complete and reliable text-book ever written on the subject. The author is one of the highest paid scenario writers in the world. The book presents in interesting form the trade secrets, professional advice and technical information which thousands need.

This book was prepared for the purpose of assisting the general reader or student to a better understanding of the plays of Shakespeare.

The volume contains about seven hundred questions and answers covering Shakespeare's Complete Works. The questions were first published without answers but in response to many requests the author has prepared a complete set of answers, and in its present form the work is a valuable Shakespearean Handbook.

The questions are intended to suggest the salient points which should be noted by those who are reading for pleasure as well as for knowledge of Shakespeare. They do not require intimate knowledge of notes, historical references or play-making.

The book may be used as a reader's aid with any edition of Shakespeare, though especially intended as a companion volume to Hearst's New International Edition.

The titles of the Miniature Series speak for themselves. They are among the great short classics of our language, which every well-educated man or woman should read and love, but which many who consider themselves so have not read.

It is, however, on the making of these books that we wish to lay emphasis—the binding and printing. They are a delight to the book-lover—books which invite the hand and eye and heart to a half hour of enchantment.

1. BETTINA'S BONNET

Bettina is a little girl who lives on the edge of the forest with her mother and father. Her parents are very poor, and her father earns his living by chopping down the forest trees. Betty wishes she had pretty things like other children, and longs for a bonnet with roses on it instead of the handkerchief she ties over her curls. One day she rescues a fairy from a wicked spider's web, and the fairy gives her three wishes. She wishes "something nice for mother, something nice for father, and a bonnet with roses on it for me!"

The little story shows how many people were made happy by a kind act.

2. BUNNY'S BIRTHDAY

Bunny wakes up on the morning of his birthday; the sun is shining and the birdies singing. Bunny takes his bath and dresses quickly. He runs downstairs and eats all his breakfast, because his mother says if he eats every bit he will then be a very good little rabbit and can have his presents. He gets a tin auto, a spade and a little wheelbarrow.

How Bunny and Ducky Daddles rescue the Princess' Puss Cat from the Fox Ogre is a tale of thrilling adventure with a happy, safe ending.

3. G. G. DRAYTON'S JUMBLE BOOK

This little book has instruction as well as amusement for the tiny tots. For it contains a jolly little alphabet, which tells them that "A" is for Apple, "B" is for Bee, "C" is for Cat. You call her "Puss-ie."

Many illustrations make the book quite gay and there is also a little lesson in Roman letters—when a pretty mother sings:

"Now listen, darlings; 'round me flock
And learn the time from the old hall clock."

They are then taught in rhyme how to tell the Roman letters from one until twelve. Mothers will welcome this little "Jumble," as it instructs while it plays.

1. MOTHER GOOSE RHYMES AND TUNES

Thirty-eight favorite Mother Goose Rhymes, words and music, including twenty-five well-known old melodies and fourteen new melodies.

All of the best old songs suitable for children are retained with new, simplified accompaniments. Wherever the old English songs were too difficult or not interesting to American children, simple new melodies have been written expressly for this book.

2. PLAYTIME SONGS, OLD AND NEW

Many of the beautiful songs in this book are now made accessible for the first time in simplified form, such as J. W. Elliott's lullaby "When Little Birdie Bye-Bye Goes." The two versions of "Yankee Doodle," old English and American, form an interesting feature.

"Good King Arthur," "The Plough-boy," "Three Blind Mice," etc., are superbly illustrated. In addition to the old melodies with easy new accompaniments there are fourteen original melodies.

3. THÉ DANSANT FOR LITTLE FOLKS

This unique book, charmingly illustrated, furnishes rare material for children's home parties and entertainments, including favorite old game songs such as "The Farmer in the Dell," "London Bridge," "Here We Go Round the Mulberry Bush," etc., words and music.

The Most Unique Motion-Picture Ever Produced

This novelization of a sensational photo-play presents a young and beautiful girl who is hailed as a goddess because of mysterious divine traits and gifts which she exhibits. She is called Celestia because poor people declare that she came from Heaven. Her career as an inspired prophetess and doer of good embodies a theme that cannot fail to have a strong appeal. The fact that Gouverneur Morris, who once had a prejudice against the "movies," consented to write the story in collaboration with Mr. Goddard is in itself the highest recommendation.

Kindness, simplicity and virtue in a Fifth Avenue mansion were certainly worth treating in film and novel. Mr. Morris' army of Cosmopolitan readers will want to see how he triumphs in this new venture.

A romance of American daring pitted against the cunning of European aristocracy. Warren Jarvis, of Kentucky and New York, kills his man in a mountaineer feud. In his escape he blunders into the bedroom of a royal Spanish princess, who is stopping in New York while she seeks for an important family document. His desperate situation, his resolute manhood and naïve gallantry win her to his cause. She agrees to save him from his pursuers on condition that he shall become her vassal, to help her solve the mystery of her family castle.

Jarvis laughs at ghosts and feudalism, but shows devotion to a helpless, persecuted, titled girl.

A narrative of brave manhood, alluring womanhood and gallant ideals, this thrilling adventure is one which will appeal to every patriotic American.

The fact that Irvin Cobb, who knows what real humor is, called this story, in its original form as a play, the best comedy that he had seen in several seasons will explain why it was worth presenting to the reading public as a novel.

The "Misleading Lady" is a superman who rules mere ordinary man with ease. She leads him a merry chase in spite of his adopting cave-man methods and taking her twenty miles from a railroad in his ninety-horsepower car.

The laughable situations which result are too many to chronicle. A harmless crazy man who thinks he is Napoleon is mixed up with some of these situations. Who gets the girl and why—this is what the reader will want to know. It is rapid-fire farce and the fun is genuine and infectious. If you don't believe it will drive dull care away, try the first few pages.

From these diverting episodes, cast in the form of household recipes, you may learn how to roast a friend, preserve a husband, and devil a mother-in-law. Shellfish (i. e., "lobsters") are also included.

Nobody can "can" a suffragist, says the author, but almost anybody can roast an absent friend—if mean enough to do so.

Of course there is a good deal of merry discussion of "chickens" and "dough." It seems to be the business of husbands, rather than wives, to make the latter.

Dorothy Dix is so well known as a humorous writer that it is almost superfluous to say that she has produced a very entertaining "household guide." It will be found strictly up to date and reliable.

Montague Shirley, a New York clubman, has a passion for criminology which leads him into the professional pursuit of criminals by a curious method. Known only to the private detective agencies and the police commissioner as a specialist in this line of work, he accepts, from the manager of an agency, the case of a series of mysterious murders of wealthy society men. He engages as his assistant a fascinating young women who calls herself Helene Marigold. Disguising himself as an elderly man-about-town, he plays into the hands of the shrewd and hospitable gangsters whom he believes responsible for the crimes.

The book makes fascinating reading for people who have tired of the weather-beaten, obvious, melodramatic detective stories of the usual type. "The Voice on the Wire" is a fascinating combination of adventure, love, intrigue, scientific and psychological analysis, woven about that absorbing White Light Realm and theatrical world of the great city.

Mr. Chester knows intimately the life of which he writes and for sheer fun there is no book of the year to equal it. You must be sure to read how Cordelia Blossom and her charming feminine ally put to rout the conservative elements grouped against them.

A Novel of the Oklahoma Oil Fields

Popular Edition

Frontispiece in Colors

Wrapper in Colors

Price 50c

The struggles of a strong man against persistent ill-luck have always been an inspiring theme for fiction—especially when, at last, the luck breaks right and the man wins. And he does win in this gripping story, which deals with oil wells in Oklahoma. It is written by a man who knows his material and is enthusiastic over it.

The hero wants to raise sheep, but his old father cherishes dreams of oil. At the price of his life, he finds it; and his son and the son's sweetheart obtain the reward. It is a man's-size story, with sinews and red blood in it, but there is tender sentiment, too, of the kind that makes the world go round.

World wickedness and deluge. GENESIS 7.

5 ¶ And GOD saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually.
6 And it repented the LORD that he had made man on the earth, and it grieved him at his heart.
7 And the LORD said, I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; both man, and beast, and the creeping thing, and the fowls of the air; for it repenteth me that I have made them.
8 But Noah found grace in the eyes of the LORD.
9 ¶ These are the generations of Noah: Noah was a just man and perfect in his generations, and Noah walked with God.
10 And Noah begat three sons, Shem, Ham, and Japheth.
11 The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence.
12 And God looked upon the earth, and, behold, it was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth.
13 And God said unto Noah, The end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them with the earth.
14 ¶ Make thee an ark of gopher wood; rooms shalt thou make in the ark, and shalt pitch it within and without with pitch.
15 And this is the fashion which thou shalt make it of: The length of the ark shall be three hundred cubits, the breadth of it fifty cubits, and the height of it thirty cubits.
16 A window shalt thou make to the ark, and in a cubit shalt thou finish it above; and the door of the ark shalt thou set in the side thereof; with lower, second, and third stories shalt thou make it.
17 And, behold, I, even I, do bring a flood of waters upon the earth, to destroy all flesh, wherein is the breath of life, from under heaven; and every thing that is in the earth shall die.
18 But with thee will I establish my covenant; and thou shalt come into the ark, thou, and thy sons, and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee.
19 And of every living thing of all flesh, two of every sort shalt thou bring into the ark, to keep them alive with thee; they shall be male and female.
20 Of fowls after their kind, and of cattle after their kind, of every creeping thing of the earth after his kind, two of every sort shall come unto thee, to keep them alive.
21 And take thou unto thee of all food that is eaten, and thou shalt gather it to thee; and it shall be for food for thee, and for them.
22 Thus did Noah; according to all that God commanded him, so did he.

7] CHAPTER 7.

The general deluge.

AND the LORD said unto Noah, Come thou and all thy house into the ark; for thee have I seen righteous before me in this generation.
2 Of every clean beast thou shalt take to thee by sevens, the male and his female: and of beasts that are not clean by two, the male and his female.
3 Of fowls also of the air by sevens, the male and the female; to keep seed alive upon the face of all the earth.
4 For yet seven days, and I will cause it to rain upon the earth forty days and forty nights; and every living substance that I have made will I destroy from off the face of the earth.
5 And Noah did according unto all that the LORD commanded him.
6 And Noah was six hundred years old when the flood of waters was upon the earth.
7 ¶ And Noah went in, and his sons, and his wife, and his sons' wives with him, into the ark, because of the waters of the flood.
8 Of clean beasts, and of beasts that are not clean, and of fowls, and of every thing that creepeth upon the earth,
9 There went in two and two unto Noah into the ark, the male and the female, as God had commanded Noah.
10 And it came to pass after seven days, that the waters of the flood were upon the earth.
11 ¶ In the six hundredth year of Noah's life, in the second month, the seventeenth day of the month, the same day were all the fountains of the great deep broken up, and the windows of heaven were opened.
12 And the rain was upon the earth forty days and forty nights.
13 In the selfsame day entered Noah, and Shem, and Ham, and Japheth, the sons of Noah, and Noah's wife, and the three wives of his sons with them, into the ark;
14 They, and every beast after his kind, and all the cattle after their kind, and every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth after his kind, and every fowl after his kind, every bird of every sort.
15 And they went in unto Noah into the ark, two and two of all flesh, wherein is the breath of life.
16 And they that went in, went in male and female of all flesh, as God had commanded him: and the LORD shut him in.
17 And the flood was forty days upon the earth; and the waters increased, and bare up the ark, and it was lift up above the earth.
18 And the waters prevailed, and were increased greatly upon the earth; and the ark went upon the face of the waters.

Christ's sermon ST. MATTHEW, 5. in the mount.

24 And his fame went throughout all Sȳr'ĭ-a: and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatick, and those that had the palsy; and he healed them.

25 And there followed him great multitudes of people from Găl'ĭ-lee, and from Dĕ-cāp'ō-lis, and from Je-ru'sa-lĕm, and from Jū-dæ'a, and from beyond Jor'dan.

CHAPTER 5.

1 Beginning of the sermon in the mount. 14 The light of the world. 21 What it is to kill. 38 Exhortation to suffer wrong. 44 Love our enemies. 48 Labour to be perfect.

AND seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him:

2 And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying,

3 Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

5 Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

6 Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.

7 Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.

8 Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

9 Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.

10 Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

11 Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake.

12 Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

13 ¶ Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men.

14 Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill cannot be hid.

15 Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house.

16 Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

17 ¶ Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.

18 For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled.

19 Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

20 For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Phăr'ĭ-sees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 ¶ Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment:

22 But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment: and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council: but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire.

23 Therefore if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee;

24 Leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way; first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

25 Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art in the way with him; lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison.

26 Verily I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing.

27 ¶ Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery:

28 But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

29 And if thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

Generations of Terah. GENESIS. 12. God calleth Abram.

17 And Ē′bĕr lived after he begat Pē′leg four hundred and thirty years, and begat sons and daughters.
18 And Pē′leg lived thirty years, and begat Rē′u:
19 And Pē′leg lived after he begat Rē′u two hundred and nine years, and begat sons and daughters.
20 And Rē′u lived two and thirty years, and begat Sē′rug:
21 And Rē′u lived after he begat Sē′rug two hundred and seven years, and begat sons and daughters.
22 And Sē′rug lived thirty years, and begat Nā′hôr:
23 And Sē′rug lived after he begat Nā′hôr two hundred years, and begat sons and daughters.
24 And Nā′hôr lived nine and twenty years, and begat Tē′rah:
25 And Nā′hôr lived after he begat Tē′rah an hundred and nineteen years, and begat sons and daughters.
26 And Tē′rah lived seventy years, and begat Ā′brăm, Nā′hôr, and Hā′ran.
27 ¶ Now these are the generations of Tē′rah: Tē′rah begat Ā′brăm, Nā′hôr, and Hā′ran; and Hā′ran begat Lŏt.
28 And Hā′ran died before his father Tē′rah in the land of his nativity, in Ûr of the Chăl′deeş.
29 And Ā′brăm and Nā′hôr took them wives: the name of Ā′brăm's wife was Sā′rāi; and the name of Nā′hôr's wife, Mĭl′cah, the daughter of Hā′ran, the father of Mĭl′cah, and the father of Ĭs′cah.
30 But Sā′rāi was barren; she had no child.
31 And Tē′rah took Ā′brăm his son, and Lŏt the son of Hā′ran his son's son, and Sā′rāi his daughter in law, his son Ā′brăm's wife; and they went forth with them from Ûr of the Chăl′deeş, to go into the land of Cā′năan; and they came unto Hā′ran, and dwelt there.
32 And the days of Tē′rah were two hundred and five years: and Tē′rah died in Hā′ran.

CHAPTER 12.

1 God calleth Abram, and blesseth him with a promise of Christ: 4 he departs from Haran. 6 Canaan promised.

NOW the LORD had said unto Ā′brăm, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will shew thee:
2 And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing:
3 And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed.
4 So Ā′brăm departed, as the LORD had spoken unto him; and Lŏt went with him: and Ā′brăm was seventy and five years old when he departed out of Hā′ran.
5 And Ā′brăm took Sā′rāi his wife, and Lŏt his brother's son, and all their substance that they had gathered, and the souls that they had gotten in Hā′ran; and they went forth to go into the land of Cā′năan; and into the land of Cā′năan they came.
6 ¶ And Ā′brăm passed through the land unto the place of Sī′chem, unto the plain of Mō′reh. And the Cā′năan-ite was then in the land.
7 And the LORD appeared unto Ā′brăm, and said, Unto thy seed will I give this land: and there builded he an altar unto the LORD, who appeared unto him.
8 And he removed from thence unto a mountain on the east of Bĕth′-el, and pitched his tent, having Bĕth′-el on the west, and Hā′ī on the east: and there he builded an altar unto the LORD, and called upon the name of the LORD.
9 And Ā′brăm journeyed, going on still toward the south.
10 ¶ And there was a famine in the land: and Ā′brăm went down into Ē′gўpt to sojourn there; for the famine was grievous in the land.
11 And it came to pass, when he was come near to enter into Ē′gўpt, that he said unto Sā′rāi his wife, Behold now, I know that thou art a fair woman to look upon:
12 Therefore it shall come to pass, when the Ē-gўp′tjanş shall see thee, that they shall say, This is his wife: and they will kill me, but they will save thee alive.
13 Say, I pray thee, thou art my sister: that it may be well with me for thy sake; and my soul shall live because of thee.

AND Běn-hā'dăd the king of Sȳr'i-a gathered all his host together: and there were thirty and two kings with him, and horses, and chariots: and he went up and besieged Sa-mā'ri-a, and warred against it.

S. LUKE, 19. Christ visiteth a publican.

Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother.

21 And he said, All these have I kept from my youth up.

22 Now when Jē'sus heard these things, he said unto him, Yet lackest thou one thing: sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me.

23 And when he heard this, he was very sorrowful: for he was very rich.

24 And when Jē'sus saw that he was very sorrowful, he said, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

25 For it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

26 And they that heard it said, Who then can be saved?

27 And he said, The things which are impossible with men, are possible with God.

28 Then Pē'ter said, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee.

29 And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake,

30 Who shall not receive manifold more in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting.

31 Then he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Je-

CHAPTER 19. 992

AND Jē'sus entered and passed through Jēr'i-chō.

2 And, behold, there was a man named Zac-chæ'us, which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich.

3 And he sought to see Jē'sus, who he was; and could not for the press, because he was little of stature.

4 And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him: for he was to pass that way.

5 And when Jē'sus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zac-chæ'us, make haste, and come down, for to day I must abide at thy house.

6 And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully.

7 And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, That he was gone to be guest with a man that is a sinner.

8 And Zac-chæ'us stood, and said unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods, I give to the poor: and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold.

9 And Jē'sus said unto him, This day is salvation come to this house, forsomuch as he also is a son of A'bra-ham.

10 For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.

11 And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Je-ru'sa-lēm, and because they thought that the kingdom of God should immediately appear.

13 But he answered and said, [m] Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.

14 Let them alone: [n] they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.

15 [o] Then answered Pē'tēr and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable.

16 And Jē'șus said, [p] Are ye also yet without understanding?

17 Do not ye yet understand, that [q] whatsoever entereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But [r] those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart; and they defile the man.

19 [s] For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies:

20 These are the things which defile a man: but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not a man.

21 ¶ [t] Then Jē'șus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tȳre and Sī'dŏn.

22 And, behold, a woman of Cā'năan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of Dā'vid; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil.

23 But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away; for she crieth after us.

24 But he answered and said, [w] I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Ĭș'rą-el.

25 Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me.

26 But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to [x] dogs.

27 And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table.

28 Then Jē'șus answered and said unto her, [a] O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.

ST. LUKE, 5.

13 And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will: be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him.

14 And he charged him to tell no man: but go, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Mō'sĕs commanded, for a testimony unto them.

15 But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities.

16 ¶ And he withdrew himself into the wilderness, and prayed.

17 And it came to pass on a certain day, as he was teaching, that there were Phär'ĭ-sees and doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every town of Gāl'ĭ-lee, and Jū-dæ'a, and Jē-ru'sā-lĕm: and the power of the Lord was present to heal them.

18 ¶ And, behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsy: and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went upon the house top, and let him down through the tiling with his couch into the midst before Jĕ'sus.

20 And when he saw their faith, he said unto him, Man, thy sins are forgiven thee.

21 And the scribes and the Phär'ĭ-sees began to reason, saying, Who is this which speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sins, but God alone?

22 But when Jĕ'sus perceived their thoughts, he answering said unto them, What reason ye in your hearts?

23 Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk?

24 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power upon earth to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsy,) I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go into thine house.

25 And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his own house, glorifying God.

26 And they were all amazed, and they glorified God, and were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to day.

27 ¶ And after these things he went forth, and saw a publican, named Lĕ'vĭ, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he said unto him, Follow me.

28 And he left all, rose up, and followed him.

29 And Lĕ'vĭ made him a great feast in his own house: and there was a great company of publicans and of others that sat down with them.

30 But their scribes and Phär'ĭ-sees murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with publicans and sinners?

31 And Jĕ'sus answering

CHAPTER 1.

1 Conquests by Judah. 8 Jerusalem taken. 21 The acts of Benjamin. 29 Nations remaining unconquered.

B. C. 1425.

NOW after the death of Jŏsh'u-a it came to pass, that the children of Ĭs'ra-el [a]asked the LORD, saying, Who shall go up for us against the Cā'năan-ītes first, to fight against them?

2 And the LORD said, [b]Jū'dah shall go up: behold, I have delivered the land into his hand.

3 And Jū'dah said unto Sĭm'e-on his brother, Come up with me into my lot, that we may fight against the Cā'năan-ītes; and I likewise will go with thee into thy lot. [c]So Sĭm'e-on went with him.

4 And Jū'dah went up; and [d]the LORD delivered the Cā'năan-ītes and the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes into their hand: and they slew of them in Bē'zek ten thousand men.

5 And they found Ă-dŏn'ī-bē'zek in Bē'zek: and they fought against him, and they slew the Cā'năan-ītes and the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes.

6 But Ă-dŏn'ī-bē'zek fled; and they pursued after him, and caught him, and cut off his thumbs and his great toes.

7 And Ă-dŏn'ī-bē'zek said, Threescore and ten kings, having [1]their thumbs and their great toes cut off, [2]gathered their meat under my table: [e]as I have done, so God hath requited me. And they brought him to Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, and there he died.

e Lev. 24. 19. Ps. 109. 16.

8 Now the children of Jū'dah had fought against Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, and had taken it, and smitten it with the edge of the sword, and set the city on fire.

9 And afterward the children of Jū'dah went down to fight against the Cā'năan-ītes, that dwelt in the mountain, and in the south, and in the valley.

10 And Jū'dah went against the Cā'năan-ītes that dwelt in Hē'bron: (now the name of Hē'bron before was Kĭr'jath-ăr'bā:) and they slew Shē'shāi, and Ă-hĭm'ăn, and Tăl'mī.

11 And from thence he went against the inhabitants of Dē'bīr: and the name of Dē'bīr before was Kĭr'jath-sē'phĕr.

12 And Cā'lĕb said, He that smiteth Kĭr'jath-sē'phĕr, and taketh it, to him will I give Ăch'sah my daughter to wife.

13 And Ŏth'nĭ-ĕl the son of Kĕ'năz, the younger brother of Cā'lĕb, took it: and he gave him Ăch'sah his daughter to wife.

14 And it came to pass, when she came to him, that she moved him to ask of her father a field: and she lighted from off her ass; and Cā'lĕb said unto her, What wouldest thou?

15 Who answered him, Give me a blessing: for thou hast given me a south land; give me also springs of water. And Cā'lĕb gave her the upper springs and the nether springs.

16 And the children of the Kē'nīte, Mō'sĕs' father in law, went up out of the city of palm trees with the children of Jū'dah into the wilderness of Jū'dah, which lieth in the south of [o]Ā'răd; [p]and they went and dwelt among the people.

17 And Jū'dah went with Sĭm'e-on his brother, and they slew the Cā'năan-ītes that inhabited Zē'phath, and utterly destroyed it. And the name of the city was called [q]Hôr'mah.

18 Also Jū'dah took [r]Gā'zà with the coast thereof, and Ăs'ke-lŏn with the coast thereof, and Ēk'rŏn with the coast thereof.

19 And [s]the LORD was with Jū'dah; and [5]he drave out the inhabitants of the mountain; but could not drive out the inhabitants of the valley, because they had [t]chariots of iron.

20 [u]And they gave Hē'bron unto Cā'leb, as Mō'şes said: and he expelled thence the three sons of Ā'năk.

21 [v]And the children of Bĕn'ja-min did not drive out the Jĕb'u-sītes that inhabited Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm; but the Jĕb'u-sītes dwell with the children of Bĕn'ja-min in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm unto this day.

22 ¶ And the house of Jō'şeph, they also went up against Bĕth'-el: and the LORD was with them.

23 And the house of Jō'şeph [w]sent to descry Bĕth'-el. (Now the name of the city before was [x]Lŭz.)

24 And the spies saw a man come forth out of the city, and they said unto him, Shew us, we pray
